FAMILY CALENDAR & RESOURCE GUIDE

Welcome Aggie Family Members!

As your student joins more than 74,000 Aggies in College Station, you might be experiencing mixed emotions. You're proud your student is beginning college, as it's a milestone towards a career and a lifetime of learning. Simultaneously, you may be concerned about academic performance, roommates, and safety. These are natural concerns for any family member to have. Rest assured you will continue to play an essential role in your student's life, and we want to partner with you to help support your student's success at Texas A&M University.

This family resource guide and calendar is designed to assist and guide you in this important supportive role. This publication contains the essential information you need to know about resources available at Texas A&M. In the calendar portion, each month provides relevant topics and resources for you as a family member, and we hope each month generates a guided conversation between you and your student.

We want the New Student & Family Programs office to be a first line of contact for you at Texas A&M when your student is experiencing difficulties or when you need help determining who they should contact concerning any issue. We are here to listen and offer assistance. We hope your student has a positive experience as an Aggie and that Texas A&M will become a special place in your heart as it has for so many Aggie parents and family members already.

A Message From the Vice President for Student Affairs

On behalf of Texas A&M University, welcome to Aggieland and the special community of students, faculty, and staff that comprise the Aggie Family!

Your Aggie is beginning an experience that will offer opportunities for intellectual, physical, and emotional growth. The changing nature of your student's life in the next few years will also undoubtedly have an impact on you and your family. It is our hope, in the Division of Student Affairs, that this will be a positive transition for you and your student. As such, we provide a variety of programs, services, and engagement opportunities to support you and help your Aggie be successful at Texas A&M.

This calendar and resource guide is published to provide information that will help you during this transitional time. We hope this information is helpful as you discover what it means to be a part of the Aggie Family.

Please always feel free to contact our office if we can assist you or your new Aggie. The Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs is the home of the students' Vice President, and everyone in our office is prepared and empowered to assist in their success.

Gig 'Em!

BG Joe E. Ramirez, Jr. USA (Ret.)

In support of the Texas A&M University mission, the Division of Student Affairs contributes to student learning and development. We provide exceptional services, facilities, and programs that promote student success, embody the Aggie spirit, and foster a diverse and inclusive campus community to deepen the understanding and individual application of the Aggie Core Values – Loyalty, Integrity, Excellence, Leadership, Selfless Service, and Respect.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY PURPOSE STATEMENT & CORE VALUES

To develop leaders of character dedicated to serving the greater good.

Our purpose statement carries with it the responsibility, the traditions, and the forward thinking of Texas A&M University exemplified by all who are associated with the university — its faculty and staff, and its current and former students.

This can be defined by six core values:

Excellence | Integrity | Leadership | Loyalty | Respect | Selfless Service

Aggie Family Checklists

Health & Safety

- ☐ Download the Code Maroon Mobile App.
The app comes with a number of safety tools, and allows family members to get Code Maroon notifications. For more information about Code Maroon emergency text, email, and computer alerts, visit codemaroon.tamu.edu.
- ☐ Make sure your student has listed you as their emergency contact in the Howdy Portal.
This information can be accessed by university officials in case of an emergency.
- ☐ Prepare a basic first aid kit to send off with your student.
Consider packing items such as thermometer, antibiotic cream, band-aids, gauze, over the counter medications, alcohol wipes, gloves, etc.
- ☐ Remind your student that the campus emergency phone numbers are linked to the QR code on the back of their Aggie ID Card.
- ☐ Send a dependent copy of your health insurance plan card and pharmacy card (if applicable) with your student.

Finances

- ☐ Discuss personal finances and expectations with your student. See Family Expectations Worksheet.
- ☐ Discuss bill payment access. Students can grant family members access to the Bill Payment Suite at billpay.tamu.edu. This will allow access to view billing history and make payments.
- ☐ Make sure your student has set up their direct deposit information. This is the only way to receive refunds from the university. More information can be found at tx.ag/AOSDeposit.

Family To-Do's

- ☐ Make your Aggie Bucket List. (See below)
- ☐ Save the date for Family Weekend
April 12-14, 2024. Hotels fill up quickly so we recommend making your arrangements as soon as possible. More information can be found at familyweekend.tamu.edu.
- ☐ Discuss and develop plans for holiday travel and campus visits. See Family Expectations Worksheet.
- ☐ Purchase your official Aggie Family gear.
Aggie gear can be purchased online or in-person from Barnes & Noble at Texas A&M, the university's official bookstore located on the first floor of the Memorial Student Center, or at tamu.bncollege.com.

Aggie Bucket List

- 3 Listen to someone play piano in the Flag Room
- 4 Attend a performance by The Singing Cadets
- 5 Attend a Corps March-In & see Reveille
- 6 Walk through The Gardens at Texas A&M University
- 7 Share a meal with your Aggie at their favorite BCS restaurant
- 8 Walk the Bonfire Memorial and read the stories of those we lost
- 9 Attend Family Weekend
- 10 Attend an Aggie Muster Ceremony
- 11 Attend Aggie Ring Day and celebrate your Aggie completing 90 hours
- 12 Cheer your Aggie on as they walk the stage for graduation

Meet the Ambassadors

Aggie Parent & Family Ambassadors

The New Student & Family Programs office recognizes that the families of our students play an important role in the university community. We believe by involving them in campus activities and informing them about campus resources, we can positively impact undergraduate student success. Aggie Parent & Family Ambassadors are a cohort of student leaders dedicated to selflessly serving the Aggie Family through fellowship and networking with fellow student leaders, as well as building, perpetuating, and sharing what makes the Aggie Family so special.

The Ambassadors are representatives of New Student & Family Programs who seek to provide exceptional Aggie Family experiences. The Aggie Parent & Family Ambassadors are involved in some of Texas A&M University's greatest traditions such as selecting the Parents of the Year and assisting with the planning and execution of Family Weekend, a tradition more than 100-years-old. Through their involvement, Ambassadors develop leadership skills, build relationships, and cultivate a deep love for being a Texas A&M Aggie.

Our students spend time together each week, working together to build community and planning different ways to celebrate the Aggie Family with the campus community and beyond. If this is something your student would be interested in, have them check out tx.ag/apfa!

Parent & Family Programs

Mission & Values

Parent & Family Programs serves parents and family members of Texas A&M students throughout the entirety of their academic career. We do this by providing information and resources to help families understand the student experience, support student learning, and empower students to persist to graduation.

Familial support is crucial to the success of students, and we welcome you as members of the Texas A&M community. Parent & Family Programs offers a wide variety of events and educational programming to allow families the opportunity to find their place in Aggieland. Whether you read our newsletter, attend our events and programs, or participate in leadership opportunities, we offer something for every family member.

OBJECTIVES:

- Ensure open channels of communication between families and the University so that families can find, or be directed to, reliable University-related information.
- Help parents and families understand and navigate the many services and resources offered by Texas A&M.
- Increase student retention and persistence by providing resources and services that equip parents and family members to be a critical partner in student success.
- Provide opportunities for families to understand and experience the Texas A&M campus and traditions.
- Advocate for the needs of parents and families of current students.

AGGIE PARENT & FAMILY CONNECTION

New Student & Family Programs uses the Aggie Parent & Family Connection Portal to enhance your Aggie family experience! The online portal will allow you to customize the information you receive from Texas A&M.

Thanks to the portal, e-newsletters from New Student & Family Programs are tailored to your interests. You can decide how often you would like to receive updates, as well as log on 24/7 to view content or make account changes.

If you would like to receive Aggie Parent & Family Newsletters, visit tx.ag/FamilyPortal and create an account using your email address.

Once a member of the Aggie Parent & Family Connection, you will have access to a specially curated news feed, calendar of important dates, helpful resources, and more! You can even save or share articles you find particularly relevant or interesting.

If you have questions or concerns, please feel free to contact New Student & Family Programs at 979.845.5826 or familyprograms@tamu.edu.

HEALTH &

Counseling & Psychological Services

The Department of Counseling & Psychological Services (CAPS) utilizes a public health model to provide outstanding counseling, mental health education and suicide awareness and prevention services to our diverse student population as a nationally recognized leader in college mental health.

CAPS maintains a wide array of bespoke mental health services and self-care resources dedicated to assisting our Aggie Students function at their highest academic potential, including crisis intervention, goal oriented individual sessions, group counseling, specialized consultations, psychiatric assessment, workshops and virtual self-help resources, as well as HelpLine and the Suicide Awareness & Prevention Office (SAPO).

CAPS also partners with My Student Support Program to provide on-demand mental health and wellness support through My SSP @ TAMU. With the download of an app, current Texas A&M students can access short-term professional counseling in multiple languages 24/7 via phone or chat. Features also include an extensive self-care resource library, mental health assessments and access to virtual fitness sessions — all free and confidential.

Programming at CAPS prioritizes diversity and inclusion, self-care, suicide awareness and prevention and general wellness with further emphasis on caring connections, coping skills and the destigmatization of mental illness and suicide prevention.

STEP IN, STAND UP

Created through the diligent and passionate efforts of the faculty, staff, and student leaders of Texas A&M University, the Step In, Stand Up campaign is a promise, a statement, and a pledge—all in an effort to reduce incidents of sexual harassment and sexual violence.

Step In Stand Up shows survivors we stand with them and asks others to do the same. It brings awareness to our community and encourages others to share our message.

It creates opportunities to change the culture, the perception, and the conversation.

Sexual violence, sexual harassment, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking can happen to anyone. The Step In Stand Up website has resources provided by the University to assist students, faculty, and staff. The Title IX website also includes resources for survivors of sexual violence, applicable rules, and frequently asked questions.

SAFETY

Code Maroon

Code Maroon has provided campus alerts and emergency notifications to Texas A&M for over a decade. The Code Maroon Mobile App is available to the Aggie community. The Code Maroon App comes with a number of new safety tools, and allows family members to get Code Maroon notifications.

If you have any questions or need assistance with the Code Maroon App, call Help Desk Central at 979.845.8300 or email them at helpdesk@tamu.edu. For more information about Code Maroon emergency text, email, and computer alerts, visit

Green Dot Bystander Intervention Training Program

Green Dot teaches Aggie faculty/staff and students to be aware of potential violence around them and provides the skills, strategies, and tactics to use the power of peer influence to intervene appropriately and safely in high-risk situations. Green Dot teaches how to become an active bystander when acts of power-based personal violence are witnessed.

Our Green Dot Team is made up of Aggie faculty and staff members who have gone through an extensive training and who volunteer their time to give overview speeches and facilitate bystander trainings. To learn more about Green Dot, visit

Stop Hate

Hate is not an Aggie value.

Addressing it is everyone's responsibility.

As a major public institution of higher education, Texas A&M University has both an extraordinary opportunity and a special responsibility to create and maintain a climate that affirms diversity of persons as well as diversity of views. Diversity is an indispensable component of academic excellence. A commitment to diversity means a commitment to the inclusion, welcome, and support of individuals from all groups, encompassing the various characteristics of persons in our community. Among these characteristics are race, ethnicity, national origin, gender identity, age, socioeconomic background, religion, sexual orientation, and disability. As we harness the power of diversity, we will provide students, faculty, and staff a university experience rich in perspectives and opportunities to learn from each other.

In the spirit of shared responsibility, we encourage each University unit, student organization, and campus community member to help make our campus a welcoming place for all.

stophate.tamu.edu

Stop Hazing

Hazing refers to any activity expected of someone joining a group (or to maintain status in a group) that humiliates, degrades, or risks emotional and/or physical harm, regardless of the person's willingness to participate. Hazing is a complex social problem that is shaped by power dynamics operating in a group and/or organization and within a particular cultural context. Hazing is a process, based on a tradition that is used by groups to maintain a hierarchy (i.e., a pecking order) within the group. Regardless of consent, the activities require individuals to engage in situations which are physically and psychologically stressful. Hazing practices can quickly spiral out of control and cause significant and lasting physical and/or psychological damage.

What You Should Know:

- ▶ Hazing is a violation of Texas A&M University Student Code of Conduct, student organization policies, and Texas State law.
- ▶ Hazing takes various forms, but typically involves physical risks or mental distress through, for example, humiliating, intimidating, or demeaning activities.
- ▶ Hazing can cause significant harm to individuals, groups, the University, and the Aggie Family.
- ▶ Hazing occurs in a variety of organizations including fraternities, sororities, athletic teams, performance groups, honor societies, and other organizations.
- ▶ Groups that haze can achieve the positive outcomes they seek from hazing through non-hazing means.

Campus Lingo

Big “T” Traditions

Reveille:

Reveille is known as the First Lady of Aggieland and is Texas A&M's official mascot.

Yell Leaders:

Aggies don't cheer — they yell. Instead of cheerleaders, yell leaders walk the sidelines. Yell leaders are a team of upperclassmen — three seniors and two juniors — elected each year by the student body.

Fish Camp:

Each year, Texas A&M incoming freshmen are welcomed to the university at Fish Camp, a three-day orientation program. At Fish Camp, freshmen are given opportunities to learn Aggie traditions, make friends, and learn more about life at Texas A&M. The camp is led entirely by Texas A&M students.

T-Camp:

Transfer Camp, known as T-Camp, welcomes transfer students to Texas A&M before the fall semester every year. T-Camp is a three-day extended orientation program that introduces transfer students to the many opportunities that exist at Texas A&M and the long-standing traditions that embody the true meaning of being an Aggie.

Midnight Yell:

The night before every home game, Aggies hold Midnight Yell at Kyle Field. Every Fall, over 25,000 people participate in Midnight Yell. Midnight Yell is also held for every away game, usually at a location in or near the city where Texas A&M will play their opponent.

The Aggie War Hymn:

The Aggie War Hymn, the official war hymn of Texas A&M (Texas A&M does not have a fight song), dates back to World War I.

The Spirit of Aggieland:

The Spirit of Aggieland is the alma mater of Texas A&M, originally written as a poem in 1925 by Marvin Mimms, Class of 1926.

Wildcat:

A Wildcat is a combined noise and hand motion that expresses class pride and is made after an Aggie yell, after hearing a class year, during introductions with the howdy greeting, or when something exciting happens.

Corps Traditions

The Corps:

The Corps of Cadets is a student-led, military-style organization at Texas A&M. It is the oldest student organization on campus and was established with the university in 1876.

Traditions of Remembrance

Bonfire Memorial:

Bonfire burned each year through 1998, with the exception of 1963. That year, Bonfire was built but torn down in a tribute to President John F. Kennedy, who was assassinated on Nov. 22, 1963. The second time in A&M's history that Bonfire did not burn was due to its collapse on Nov. 18, 1999 at 2:42 a.m, almost exactly 92 years after the first Bonfire. The collapse claimed the lives of 12 Aggies and injured 27 others. Five years later, the Bonfire Memorial was dedicated on the exact location of the fallen 1999 Bonfire.

Traditions & Symbols

The Century Tree:

The Century Tree, located near the Academic Building, is well over 100 years old, and was one of the first trees planted on Texas A&M's massive 5,200-acre campus.

Pennies on Sully:

A statue of the former Texas governor — affectionately called “Sully” — stands as one of the most iconic landmarks on campus. Students leave pennies at the base of Sully for good luck before taking their exams.

Terminology

Gig ‘Em:

Aggies will often flash a thumbs up and say “Gig ‘em!”. It was popularized in 1920, but today, the phrase and thumbs-up gesture are a universal sign of approval for Aggies and identify an Aggie or an Aggie fan. Usually done with the right hand, the Gig ‘em sign also showcases the Aggie Ring, which is traditionally worn on that hand. But even more than that, Gig ‘em signals optimism, determination, loyalty, and the Aggie Spirit.

Howdy:

“Howdy” is the official greeting of Texas A&M. Students greeting one another — and especially campus visitors — with a “howdy” has earned the university a reputation as the friendliest campus in the world.

Whoop:

Aggie upperclassmen and graduates will often say “Whoop!” as an expression of approval or excitement. It is most often used at the end of an Aggie yell. Underclassmen are not supposed to say the word until they have reached either junior or senior status.

Good Bull:

“Good Bull” is a phrase used to describe anything that embraces or promotes the Aggie Spirit or the traditions of Texas A&M. It is also used to signify approval of virtually anything.

Aggie Traditions

"There's a Spirit can ne'er be told..."

What does it mean to be a Texas A&M Aggie? Since its beginning in 1876, Texas A&M has developed a rich heritage of traditions that have helped to develop character, leadership, unity, and public service in all its graduates. By experiencing these honored traditions, you can begin to understand what is truly meant by "the Spirit of Aggieland."

TEAM TRADITIONS

- 12th Man: In the spirit of E. King Gill, Aggies stand ready for service, desiring to support their team.
- Midnight Yell: At midnight before each football game, Aggies gather to pump up the 12th Man for the next day's big game.
- Yell Leaders: Selected by the student body, these five Aggies are the official spirit organization of the university, and they lead the Aggie fans in "yells" during athletic events and other school events.
- Maroon Out: The 12th Man makes a difference for their team fighting on the gridiron by wearing all maroon.

CORPS OF CADETS TRADITIONS

- Senior Boots: Members of the Corps of Cadets look forward to their senior year when they are privileged to wear boots.
- Fightin' Texas Aggie Band: The pulse of the Spirit of Aggieland has never lost a half-time!
- Ross Volunteers: The oldest honor guard and drill team of its kind in the state, the Ross Volunteer Company is the Honor Guard of the Governor of the State of Texas.
- Boot Dance: The junior class dance reflects their readiness to fill the shoes of the graduating senior class.

TRADITIONS OF REMEMBRANCE

- Aggie Muster: Every April 21st, Muster brings together more Aggies worldwide on one occasion than any other event.
- Silver Taps: A final tribute is held the first Tuesday of the month when a current student has passed away the previous month.
- Memorial Student Center (MSC): Aggies who have given their lives in service to their country are honored in this living memorial.

COMMUNITY TRADITIONS

- "Howdy!": Texas A&M's official greeting has led to Aggieland's reputation of being the most welcoming campus in the world.
- Big Event: The largest single-day student-run service project in the nation is a "Thank You" to the local community.
- Replant, A Growing Tradition: The planting of thousands of trees every year on public lands has grown into one of the largest student-run environmental projects in the nation.

TRADITION SYMBOLS

- Aggie Ring: This is the most visible way for graduates of Texas A&M to recognize each other. The Aggie Ring is worn by current and former students and is one of the most well-known symbols of the Aggie Network. Each item on the ring has a symbolic meaning. For more information on the Aggie Ring, visit: tx.ag/aggiering.

CLASS TRADITIONS

- "The proudest member of the Fightin' Texas Aggie Class of..."
- Elephant Walk: The annual walk around campus is done to symbolize the seniors' dying usefulness to the 12th Man.
- Junior E-Walk: Coinciding with Elephant Walk, this tradition celebrates the juniors' anticipating their reign as the top campus leaders.
- Ring Dance: The senior class dance is a milestone in the privilege of wearing the Aggie Ring.
- Graduation: Students receive their degree from Texas A&M and membership in The Association of Former Students.

For more information on Texas A&M's Traditions, please visit tamu.edu/traditions.

STUDENT LIFE

We strive to enhance opportunities for students to participate fully in the Texas A&M University experience. We provide information, services, programs, and involvement opportunities for students that facilitate responsible life choices and promote awareness of themselves and of their community.

Graduate & Professional Student Government

A sponsored student organization that hosts Grad Camp, Student Research Week, Interdisciplinary Dinners, and sponsors the Graduate and Professional Student Wine Tasting.

Health Promotion

Empowers all Aggies to embrace a culture of holistic well-being that fosters their academic, personal, and professional success. Their services encompass a variety of topics including: fitness and nutrition, alcohol and/or other drugs, sexual health, and interpersonal violence prevention.

New Student & Family Programs

Assists new undergraduate students as they transition to Texas A&M while supporting families of undergraduate students. NSFP provides students and families a foundation to the expectations, academic standards, and sense of belonging at Texas A&M.

Off Campus Student Services

Supports off campus living through educational materials and AggieSearch, an online housing search tool. These educational resources can assist with finding housing, becoming more aware of community standards, and learning all you need to know about leasing in Aggieland.

Student Assistance Services

Seeks to connect students to the appropriate guidance, resources, and support to address a variety of personal and academic matters. SAS can be the first point of contact for information or questions about a variety of topics such as concerning behavior follow-up, student welfare checks, student absence notifications, Silver Taps, transition issues, and more.

Student Legal Services

Students can receive free legal advice and assistance so they may respond appropriately to their legal challenges. Counsel is given on a variety of student needs and topics including landlord/tenant disputes, criminal law, expunctions, auto accidents, traffic tickets, consumer protection, and more.

Student Media

Student Media produces three national award-winning, student-run publications; The Battalion newspaper, Aggieland yearbook, and Maroon Life Magazine. They offer excellent opportunities to gain valuable experience for journalistic and related careers.

Women's Support Services

Provides support, as a part of SAS, for pregnant and parenting students by maintaining online resources such as The Little Aggie and available lactation spaces on campus.

Office for Student Success

The Office for Student Success is committed to the retention, success, and timely graduation of all undergraduate students at Texas A&M. Through Texas A&M's first-year experience course Hullabaloo U, first-year students can achieve academic and personal goals, take advantage of campus resources, develop a sense of belonging, and contribute to our diverse and inclusive Aggie community.

Transfers students are invited to take advantage of the Transfer Student Program. The Routh First-Generation Center supports first-generation students from admission to graduation through campus-wide advocacy, student support services, leadership opportunities, and resiliency coaching. Students can also utilize our innovative online resources such as the Navigate Student app to stay organized, informed, and in touch with their academic advisor.

Students and families can connect with our Student Success Help Desk to identify where to start when students face academic obstacles or concerns about graduating on time. The Office for Student Success is here to help!

AGGIE ADVICE

One of the greatest impacts you can have on your student is to constantly communicate positive messages to them. Many students will only communicate the negative aspects of their experiences, so it is important to ask them about the positive experiences they are having inside and outside the classroom. To complement these discussions, make sure to hold realistic expectations for your student. The transition from high school to college and beyond is a difficult one, and academics play a large role. Do not hold expectations for your student to achieve a perfect 4.0. Instead, speak with them about their classes and provide encouraging messages of support for them to do their best.

Health Promotion

Health and wellbeing are important parts of a positive college experience, and advocating for a student's wellbeing needs can take a back burner to academics, stress, and goals. It is important to share with your student that taking care of their wellbeing will pay dividends towards their academic success. Managing stress, eating well, staying active, maintaining healthy relationships, and navigating substance use are just some of the ways Health Promotion is here to support students.

Health Promotion's goal with respect to interpersonal violence prevention is to create a campus community free of abuse, harassment, and other forms of sexual and intimate partner violence where students enjoy equitable, nonviolent relationships. Health Promotion's programs promote healthy relationships, teach non-violence and equality, and foster a respectful and safe environment for all members of the Texas A&M community.

One of the greatest challenges many students face in college is pressure regarding alcohol. As Aggie family members, the most influential people in our Aggies' lives, it is important for you to discuss important topics with your student. These can include setting clear and realistic expectations regarding academic performance, stressing that alcohol is toxic and excessive consumption can be fatally poisonous, and making it clear that underage alcohol consumption, drinking in excess, and driving after drinking are against the law.

RESOURCES IN AGGIELAND

Career Center

Texas A&M is focused on preparing your student for endeavors beyond their undergraduate career. Whether they are looking to further their education or looking for employment, there is a program or office to aid your student.

The Texas A&M University Career Center provides comprehensive services to assist all Aggies in exploring major and career options, gaining work-related experience and internships, seeking admission to graduate school, and securing professional employment upon graduation. Services and resources available include one-on-one career advising, career-related programs and workshops, panel discussions, and online tools such as videos, webinars, resume templates, virtual mock interviews, networking tools, salary evaluation resources, and job search sites.

At the 1930 Yell Practice before the TCU football game, Pinky Downs shouted out, “What are we going to do to those Horned Frogs?” Answering his own question, he replied, “Gig ‘Em, Aggies!” while making a fist with his thumb extended.

Many students will find friendships through student organizations, classes, and other activities that they will miss after the semester concludes. Some of these relationships will simply not last the test of summer, so it is important to support your student while understanding this is a natural part of college student development. The best thing you can do for your student is to listen to their concerns and issues regarding missing their new friends. The sympathetic ear you provide can be the greatest asset and resource they have during these summer months.
